News from Center for Food and Agricultural Business Programs

The Center for Food and Agricultural Business will launch three new professional development programs in 2017: Cultivating Resilience, the Accelerated Management Program, and Turning Trust to Loyalty. See the program lineup at <http://agribusiness.purdue.edu/seminars-and-events>.

The American Seed Trade Association Management Academy is March 6-10 in Krannert Center. This year marks the program's 30th anniversary and 30 years of partnership between the center and ASTA. The management academy brings together 50 seed industry professionals for a week of top-notch instruction, networking and industry exposure. It is the center's longest running program.

The center and Aspyre Growth Accelerator will continue to partner in 2017, offering two programs in Johannesburg, South Africa. Agri-Finance for Non-Financial Managers is May 22-26, and Strategic Agribusiness Management is May 28-June 1.

Land O'Lakes Living Case

The center co-hosted the inaugural Land O'Lakes, Inc., Living Case Competition at Purdue University, Feb. 24-27 alongside the Krannert School of Management. Teams of undergraduate students visited a farm, toured a farmer-owned cooperative, and conducted interviews with representatives of Land O'Lakes Sustain and WinField United. The students then presented their findings to a panel of judges. The winning team was Dane Chapman and Erica Timmons of the College of Agriculture. Second place was Andrea Choka, Rachel Thalls and Vinit Ghia of the Krannert School of Management. Outstanding presenters were Jacquelyn Brown of Agriculture and Sam Phares of Krannert.

News from the Center for Commercial Agriculture:

Advisory Council

The Center for Commercial Agriculture hosted its Industry Council and Advisory Council on campus for their annual meeting in January. Twenty-one attendees representing agribusiness, commodity organizations and farms spent two days casting vision for the center's future.

Webinars

The center also has hosted five webinars so far in 2017:

Ag Business Climate Outlook for 2017
Reducing Your Crop Production Costs: Focus on Fertility
Family Business as a Competitive Advantage
Ag Economy Barometer – January Report Update
Making Your 2017 Crop Insurance Choices

Programs

Michael Langemeier and Jim Mintert have been speaking at a variety of Extension programs about “Managing for 2017 and Beyond.” These programs, which are focused on helping agricultural producers reduce their per-bushel corn and soybean production costs, are offered in partnership with Purdue Agronomy and Purdue Extension.

News from Center for Global Trade Analysis:

Please welcome Sue Bennett as the Center for Global Trade Analysis' new Operations Coordinator. Sue comes to GTAP from the Department of Agronomy here at Purdue, where she was the Business Manager for the past few years.

Welcome, Sue!
